PREFACE

The Multidisciplinary Pervasive Face of the company Management talks about many aspects that have to do with running a business.

Business management is a big and always-changing field that covers a lot of diverse areas, such as economics, finance, marketing, operations, psychology, and sociology. In today's fast-paced global economy, managers have to do more than just make strategic decisions and lead. It also has to run the firm every day and come up with new ideas. Businesses need to operate in a way that is broad and interconnected because they are always facing new chances and issues.

The book talks about the numerous parts/advice on how to run a business in a world that is continually changing. It illustrates that managers need to know a lot about a lot of various things to solve hard problems. To help the firm do well, a good manager needs to know how to use a range of tools, frameworks, and methodologies. You may do this by making the supply chain better, coming up with strong marketing plans, managing people, or keeping an eye on what's happening in the market.

This book combines theory with real-life events to help readers completely understand all the different components of running a business. In a business environment that is getting more and more competitive, it also underlines how crucial it is to be adaptable, always learn new things, and be able to come up with new ideas.

The purpose of this book is to give future managers the tools and information they need to succeed in a world that is continually changing and connected. With this information, they will be better equipped to lead teams, make sensible choices, and help any firm develop in the long run.

Abstract

If everyone receives fair, accessible, and quality education, society can be equitable, affluent, and sustainable. The core concepts involve avoiding prejudice, making things easily accessible and learning through doing. The purpose of the program is to eliminate institutional barriers to good education related to poor and marginalized communities. This chapter talks about what fair education is and what are its real-life effects, meaning how does it impact people. The statement discusses both the global framework and international frameworks such as India's National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and Sustainable Development Goal 4 (SDG 4). Not having enough skilled teachers, not having enough infrastructure, and having biases based on culture and society are also issues discussed in the chapter. It wraps up by giving ideas on how to improve policies, teachers, and the curriculum, and also to involve the community to make spaces of learning that are genuinely open to all.

Key words: SDG 4, NEP 2020, educational policy, inclusive education, fair access, and diversity.
