Medical Tourism: Building World-Class Healthcare Facilities in Uttar Pradesh

Dr Orooj Siddiqui<sup>1</sup>

Introduction

Interactions between individuals from various states, nations, and cities have created a wealth of economic prospects. Medical tourism is one such concept that has taken off recently but with a fast speed, this industry has experienced exponential growth in last decade, however the conceptualization of this idea is not very latest. Medical tourism is the term for travelling across boundaries of nations, states, or cities in order to receive surgical and medical care. Travelling from one's home to another location to enhance one's health gave rise to the phrase "medical tourism." Medical tourism aims to attract traveler's by deliberately showcasing the destination's medical services and facilities in addition to its typical tourist attractions. Receiving medical care from traditional healers and other practitioners, as well as any other type of travel done to treat a health issue in reasonable rates can be termed as medical tourism. From this angle, it is evident that medical care in India is incredibly affordable. It has been seen in recent times
