Advancing gender equality may be one of the best ways of saving the environment, and countering the dangers of overcrowding and other adversities associated with population pressure. The voice of women is critically important for the world's future not just for women's future.

Amartya Sen

Abstract

The concept of ecofeminism talks about the relationship of women with nature. They both bear similarities in terms of physical and behavioural approaches. These similarities are the causing factors for creating intimacy toward the environment and the natural up gradation of ecology and gender equality, the present paper is a humble attempt to discuss the role responsibility and importance of women for the sustainable development of society to change the outlook and perspective of the patriarchy. It also tries to put into light the role of many environmental and social activists, who with their utmost effort trying to bring about social and environmental reformation for the sustainable development of society could be possible.
